Target Audience

The Spotlight Max Iris is a versatile projection iris insert ideal for Spotlight Max users who need to be able to quickly change the beam size of their Spotlight Max.

With 24 iris blades and a simple lever design, users can quickly adjust the size of their Spotlight Max's illumination circle while preserving a perfectly circular beam shape without having to reposition their Spotlight Max.

Spotlight Max users that need the versatility of a variable beam size will find the Spotlight Max Iris to be a necessary addition to their tool kits.

Product Description

The Spotlight Max Iris is an all-metal, heavy-duty iris insert that controls the beam size of the Spotlight Max. The Iris simply slots into a cutout located on the top of the Spotlight Max and its aperture is controlled via a lever.

With 24 iris blades, the resulting aperture when closing and opening the Spotlight Max Iris is a perfectly circular shape, which preserves the circular illumination area that the Spotlight Max natively outputs.

The Spotlight Max Iris is particularly useful in situations that require varying beam sizes of focused light. By closing the iris aperture, users can achieve a smaller illumination output circle from their Spotlight Max. This makes changing the size of the illuminated area quick and easy without the need to move or refocus the Spotlight Max.

With a heavy-duty, heat-tolerant design, the Spotlight Max Iris works perfectly with high-powered LED light engines. Its sturdy mechanical design ensures smooth iris operation even when heated by fixtures such as the LS 1200d Pro.
